Branching Out: Rotary Club of Bay St. Louis rehabs beloved ‘Angel Tree’

BY GEOFF BELCHER
GENERAL MANAGER

Sometimes, even angels need a helping hand. The Rotary Club of Bay St. Louis and its Satellite Club on Saturday spent several hours repairing and repainting the “Angel Tree” in front of Our Lady of the Gulf Catholic Church. “The Angel Tree has become a favorite tourist photo attraction, as well as a site for outdoor weddings,” Rotary Club President David Hilbert said Saturday. It is one of several storm-damaged live oak trees sculpted by Indiana chainsaw artist Dayle Lewis after Hurricane Katrina, and has become

Last week, the Waveland Board of Mayor and Aldermen heard from Bernie Cullen, board chair for Waveland’s LiLi Stahler-Murphy Ground Zero Hurricane Museum, about the recent Smithsonian “Crossroads: Change in Rural America” exhibit. There were 26 donors; funding from the city of Waveland and Hancock County Board of Supervisors; and grants awarded from the Mississippi Humanities Council and MS Gulf Coast National Heritage Area, she said. In addition to the exhibit, there were seven speakers for the lecture series; 35 volunteer docents; and two staff members and two regular museum volunteers. During the Smithsonian’s six-month run in Waveland, the final count was: 1,355 visitors to the

Hair wins Hancock County coroner’s race

BY GEOFF BELCHER
GENERAL MANAGER

Hancock County officially has a new coroner-elect -- long-time law enforcement officer Jeff Hair on Tuesday won the non-partisan special election with nearly 68 percent of the vote. “I thank the voters of Hancock County for their support,” Hair said after the vote tallies were read Tuesday evening at the Hancock County circuit courtroom. “This position means a lot to me and I hope to carry on Ms. (Norma) Stiglet’s legacy.” Hair earned 1,476 votes, including 1,436 on election day and 40 absentee ballots, for a total of 67.55 percent of the ballots cast. Former deputy coroner Melissa Taillon earned 425 votes -- including 416 on election day and eight absentees; while Tina Stanfill earned 279 votes, including 268 on Tuesday and 11 absentees.

Hancock Circuit Court Clerk Kendra Necaise said Tuesday that one-ballot races typically see low voter turn-out, but she was otherwise pleased with the proceedings. All Hancock County precincts had reported and all the votes were tabulated before 8:30 p.m. on Tuesday, a nearly unprecedented event. “We were able to tabulate the votes quickly and everything ran smoothly,” Necaise said. “I’m really pleased with the way it went. It went really well today.” Necaise credited the hard work of her staff

Hancock Whitney Returns to Full-Service Hours at Historic Old Town Location

SEA COAST ECHO

Much like why the bank opened on South Beach Boulevard 122 years ago to help people make the most of a thriving local economy, Hancock Whitney has expanded full-service banking hours at its historic Old Town office as business booms in South Mississippi’s city by the Bay.

More banking hours and services mean the Hancock County Chamber of Commerce, which has occupied the second floor of the building at Main Street and South Beach Boulevard rent-free for almost nine years, will move to another, yet undetermined location by January 31, 2022.

“The Hancock County Chamber has been fortunate to have Hancock Whitney’s support as our premier sponsor since we were first established 95 years ago, and that support continues today,” said Hancock County Chamber of Commerce Executive Director Tish Williams. “It was always our hope that Hancock Whitney would one day bring this financial center back as a full-service bank for our residents and visitors. We are so appreciative to have the opportunity to utilize this office space and, in a small way, play a role in accomplishing this goal.”

Williams added that the Hancock County Chamber plans to find a

To help offset potential relocation costs, Hancock Whitney has pledged a three-year advertising commitment to the Hancock County Chamber.

Working Together to Grow the Bay

Hancock Whitney has provided the Hancock County Chamber of Commerce office space at no charge on the second floor of the downtown Bay St. Louis building since restoring the site after Hurricane Katrina. The first-floor financial center has offered limited banking services and business hours in recent years but has reinstituted standard business hours and more on-site financial services for local clients, requiring additional banking office space on both floors of the Old Town building.

“We’ve always had a strong partnership with the Hancock Chamber of Commerce and applaud the work they do as advocates for economic growth throughout the region in which our bank was born,” said Hancock Whitney Mississippi President Emory Mayfield, a Bay St. Louis resident. “Our goal has always been to return the Old Town financial center to full-service business hours, and we anticipate using the first- and second-floor offices to meet more of our local clients’ financial services needs. In addition to providing help for local cancer patients, Constance Cares for Cancer has also added a new goal this year, “Baby Jesus gets a New Roof for Christmas!”

Hancock County native and Constance Cares for Cancer founder Michael Joseph said that the organization will be replacing the old roof on Mount Chapel Baptist Church, located at 721 Herlihy St. in Waveland.

The plan is to construct the new roof on Dec. 18, beginning at 9 a.m., Joseph said.

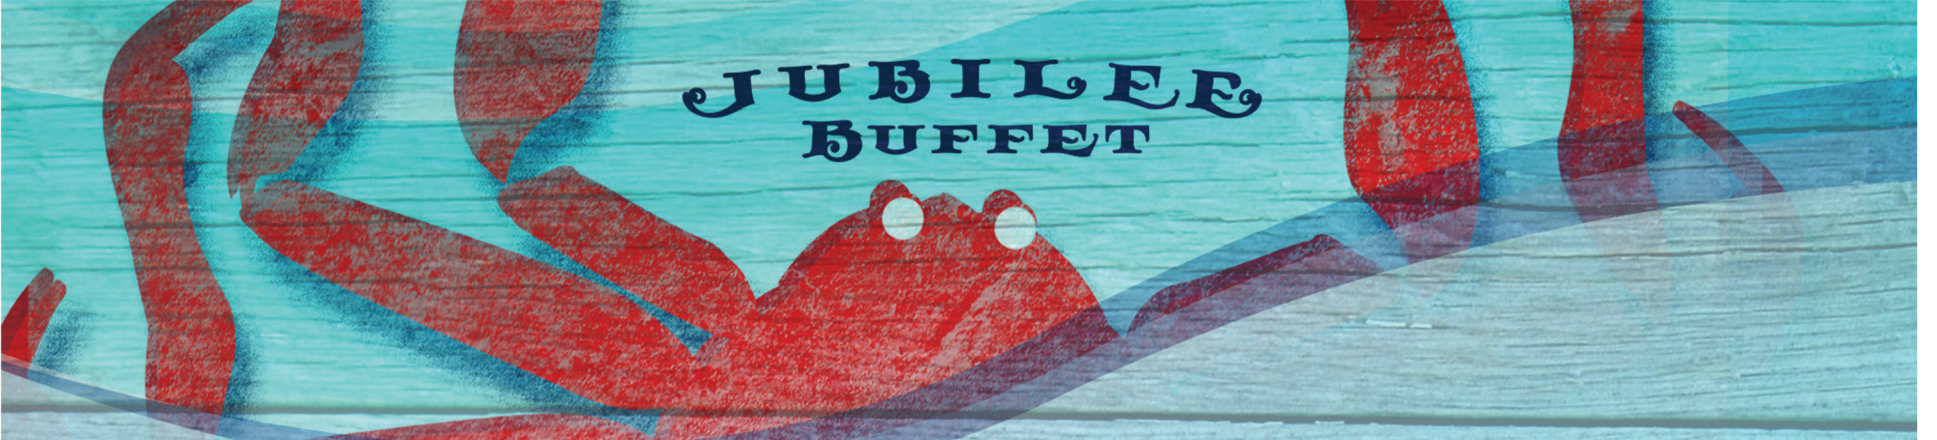

Right now, he said, they are seeking volunteers to help with construction and hardware stores and business willing to donate help and/or supplies.

Joseph said that Mis-

He added that he believes replacing the shingled roof can be completed in one day.

Anyone who wishes to donate supplies or volunteer can contact Joseph at 832-265-7791. Donations can also be made at www.constance-caresforcancer.org.

On September 29th Mr Michael McDaniel, General Manager of Aerojet Rocketdyne, presented the Aerojet Rocketdyne Foundation S.T.E.M Grant to Mr Charles Bourg at Hancock Middle School for his Computer Science and Engineering class and Robotics Program. This grant of $750 will be used to purchase robotics parts and other technology supplies for the benefit of the students at HMS. This is the 5th year that Aerojet has provided their support to the school and the advancement of technology learning. According to Mr Bourg, “Aerojet is a great partner with the school to prepare our kids for the future and their support allows the kids to see and touch what they are learning, not just read about it.”

Our Lady Academy celebrates Mercy Day

Our Lady Academy (OLA) held its annual Mercy Day Celebration on September 24, 2021. Each year, OLA observes the founding of the House of Mercy on Baggot St. in Dublin, Ireland. Catherine McAuley opened the House of Mercy to shelter and educate women and girls. Mother Catherine McAuley founded the sisters of Mercy in 1831. Her moto, “Let us fit young women for earth without unfitting them for heaven” remains present in the halls of Our Lady Academy.

The celebration consists of a morning prayer service, tea, picnic, games, and laughter. OLA, Teacher, Leigh Chapman began the Mercy Day prayer ceremony with a tribute to Catherine McAuley. “It is a dream of God’s compassion and mercy that became the House of Mercy on Baggot Street in Dublin, Ireland. The initial opening of those first doors of mercy widened to embrace the struggling poor of Dublin and beyond. Catherine chose to use her inherited wealth to extend Christ’s mercy to those in need. The House of Mercy addressed the needs of homeless girls and women as well as people who were uneducated and economically poor.”

Included in the prayer service, each sisterhood presented gifts of service. Sisterhoods are made up of students from each class representing six ministries: Hospitality, Respect & Dignity, Justice, Diversity, Integrity & Compassion, and Stewardship. The purpose of sisterhoods is for students to work as a team in developing and fulfilling projects that service others in the community.

Following lunch, the competition between the sisterhoods began. Sisterhood teams competed in kick ball, volleyball, creating rosary beads, playing games, spending time in adoration, and practicing the “Mercy Dance”. Once the scores for each team were tallied, the winner of this year’s Mercy Day Sisterhood was announced. ‘Respect and Dignity’ sisterhood team took home the 2021 Mercy Day trophy.

Hilbert said the Rotary Club wanted to restore the tree because it is not only beautiful, but now a historic part of Bay St. Louis.

“We’re scrubbing off mold and moss and re-sealing it,” Hilbert said. “We’re told that in the places where the sealant was missing, the tree would start to rot.”

Club members also rehabilitated and replaced some of the other carvings that Lewis had done and placed on the tree, like a roosting pelican that had sadly fallen off its branch.

Waveland discusses tractor woes

BY CASSANDRA FAYRE
STAFF WRITER

Last week, during the Waveland Board of Mayor and Aldermen meeting, Mayor Mike Smith bought up the possibility of purchasing two additional tractors at about $85,000 apiece.

The city currently has two on order, scheduled to be delivered in mid-December.

“We have enough money to buy two more,” he said, “because we’re having some problems with the transmissions.”

Waveland Public Works Manager Bo Humphreys said there are tractors down with transmission-related problems.

If the city were to order the tractors, they would be drop deck, which allows workers to cut inside the ditch and on top, Humphreys said. The extended arms cut the back side of a ditch.

Christ Episcopal dedicates new education center to late priest

Christ Episcopal Church on Sunday dedicated its new education building in honor of the late Rev. Cecil B. Jones, Jr., the priest who made the project happen.

“Gracious God, you knit us together in the communion of saints where every child has a place in the choir, on this beautiful day, we give you thanks for your child Cecil, faithful priest of this church, who inspired your people to build this education building during the challenging days of the pandemic,” Christ Episcopal’s interim rector, Rev. Marian D. Fortner said during the dedication. “With grateful hearts, we now dedicate this building to Cecil’s memory, naming it the Cecil B. Jones, Jr. Education Building. May his memory be a blessing to all who enter here, and may this holy space be a place where all of God’s children can be loved and nurtured to grow in your grace and love.”

Jones died on May 25, 2020 at the age of 78, after more than 50 years serving the Episcopal Diocese of Mississippi, ending his tenure at Christ Episcopal in Bay St. Louis.

“Boy, we were lucky to have Cecil,” Church Vestry Board member and building committee member Lane DeBardeleben said Sunday during the dedication. “Cecil taught us a lot of things, one of which is that we needed to grow our church.”

The best way to grow the church, DeBardeleben said, as per Jones’ guidance, “was to get new younger members with children,” and the quickest way to do that, he said, was to build the education center.

“Cecil came to the Vestry Committee and said we need an education building,” board member George Riviere said. “Cecil said it can be done and it will be done, and it was.”

Riviere said Jones was an inspirational figure who helped transform the parish.

“I never knew a man so positive and so sure about what he wanted,” Riviere said.

One test to rule them all

George Carlin once said, “The reason they call it the American Dream is because you have to be asleep to believe it.”

Maybe if I had listened to more of Carlin in my younger days, I would have been more prepared for adulthood.

In a Mississippi Today article, Mark Keenum, Mississippi State University President, was quoted from a December 2020 Zoom meeting as saying that the state’s financial aid programs should be written and that “Too often, Mississippi’s financial aid programs go to poor, lower-performing kids and take money away from students with high ACT scores.”

“When you look at MTAG (Mississippi Tuition Assistance Grant), the dollar amounts that are provided are so small,” Keenum said, “and you know, a student can get a MTAG grant that has say maybe a 15 or 16 on their ACT, and they can come and bring those dollars to Mississippi State University. I’ll just tell all of you, that students does not need to come to Mississippi State University. But we’ve given funding, although a small amount, to that student, and we ought not do that. We urge students to not come here — if it’s a Mississippi student, I cannot turn them away under state law. They show up here with a 15 or 16 or 17 on their ACT and a 2.0 grade point average, barely get out of high school. They’re not a candidate to come to Mississippi State, but I can’t deny them enrollment. But we’ve given them funding to come to Mississippi State. We should not do that.”

He said that Mississippi’s financial aid programs do not provide enough aid to students with “higher ACT scores” and if the state doesn’t provide more financial aid to “high-achieving” students, he said he feared they will go elsewhere for college.

“We’re a poor state, and we’ve got the lowest per-capita income in the nation, and we’ve got just poor people, and they need help, and we need to do what we can to support them and give them opportunities in life,” Keenum said. “Thank goodness there are federal aid programs that provide a lot of support.”

Hancock History: Bayou Lacroix

HANCOCK HISTORY
BY James Keating M.D.

The history of the local Choctaw tribe in the nineteenth century in Hancock County includes the interesting story about the nostalgic and historic community called Bayou LaCroix. This community was named after a tributary of the Jourdan River that extends westward for over ten miles into Devil’s Swamp, which is in the present NASA Buffer Zone in Hancock County. In a bygone era, both Native American and European settlers raised livestock and grew crops on small farms. The timber and turpentine industries were also attracted to this spot on a navigable waterway, and subsequently, a small but robust economy flourished there. Fortunately, there are fourth generation descendants of these early yeomen farmers from the Zengerling and Ladner families who provided fascinating source material and good stories for this article highlighting the good relationship between the European settlers and the Native Americans.

An Indian village called Chicapoula (meaning bad grass) was located at the site of present day Bay St. Louis, Mississippi, inhabited in the eighteenth century by a small Choctaw tribe. Some of these Indians refused to migrate to Oklahoma in 1835 when President Andrew Jackson enforced the Indian Removal Act. A small group of Choctaw Indians migrated to Devil’s Swamp next to Bayou LaCroix where they successfully survived and enjoyed a relatively comfortable sustenance existence for over sixty years. The men found abundant game to hunt/trap in Devil’s Swamp such as deer, turkey, rabbit, and squirrel. The women raised corn, beans, and wild rice. These Choctaw in Bayou LeCroix became “civilized” over the second half of the nineteenth century, actually owning their own farms. They built wooden houses and worked for their white neighbors and the local businesses doing various manual labor such as logrolling.

In this same time frame, a turpentine kiln was established in this location by the name of Dill and Vizard. This neighborhood attracted other timber industry such as a sawmill on Bayou LaCroix and the community was called Dillville at that time. These Indians peacefully coexisted with the white settlers and also established farms and raised livestock. The Indian men traded fish, meat, and hides at a local store while the Indian women and children wove beautiful baskets to sell on the streets of downtown Bay St. Louis.

The able leader of this tribe was Chief Thomas Tikaler (Taylor) Yearby (1818-c.1903). He actually spoke English and French in addition to his native Muskogean Choctaw. Because of these skills, he became an ambassador of good will in his community. In old age he was succeeded by his son-in-law, Chief Bilbo Henry Taylor (b. 1834). An important and prosperous German settler in town, John Zengerling, invited his Indian neighbors to his house, often, to introduce them to Christianity. Later, the white and Indian inhabitants worshipped together in the early churches.

Proper Disposal of Deer Carcass

Guest Column

By James Cummins

With the passing of each year, there appears to be an increasing number of deer carcasses appearing on roadsides and in streams or rivers. These dumping practices are not only illegal, but unsightly and unhealthy.

I am an avid hunter and spend most of my working days trying to further the sport of hunting and the conservation of the natural resources of our state and our nation. But not everyone feels like I do. Some spend as much, or more, time trying to outlaw hunting as I do trying to further it. While I totally disagree with those in our society with such beliefs, we as a group of hunters, should not do things to further the cause of the anti-hunting public, or give those that are indifferent about hunting, a reason to oppose it. In other words, we should not spread the byproduct, or the carcass, of a successful hunt in areas where other people have to view it or in areas that could cause a public health issue.

There is already a law prohibiting such activity. Section 97-15-29 of the Mississippi Code of 1972 prohibits the dumping of dead fish and wildlife, their parts, or waste on Mississippi’s roadways or their right-of-ways or on private property without the landowner’s consent. If caught, an offender can be charged with a misdemeanor and fined up to $250.00.

Dead deer on the side of the road can be a hazard to drivers. In some instances, they could cause some serious damage to a car, or injury to the driver. This dumping is happening when no one is around, therefore making it very hard to catch the culprits.

Deer carcasses dumped in streams and rivers can pose a human health risk. This risk comes from the drinking and/or swimming in waters contaminated by decomposing deer carcasses.

Roadsides, streams, and rivers are not options. Two recommended methods of disposal are digging a pit in which to place the carcass or taking it to a deer processor who will properly dispose of or compost it. This is legal and respectful to the sport. And if you can’t do that, place the carcass in an area where it cannot be viewed and it is not near any homes. It won’t take long for the coyotes and buzzards to salvage the rest of it.

Anyone who finds a deer carcass on his property is obligated to clean it up and report it to law enforcement agencies. Please take time for appropriate carcass disposal. To report a violation, call your local sheriff’s office or the Mississippi Department of Wildlife, Fisheries, and Parks at 1-800-BE-SMART (1.800.237.6278).

James L. Cummins is executive director of Wildlife Mississippi, a non-profit, conservation organization founded to conserve, restore, and enhance fish, wildlife, and plant resources throughout Mississippi. Their website is www.wildlifemiss.org.

• TEST

I wonder if he would apply this same logic to the star athletes who aren't "high-achieving" students?

And why is it perfectly fine that it's free to attend K-12, but those next four years? Nope, not unless you're "high-achieving" or maybe just a really good test taker.

When I was in the seventh grade, I was selected for Duke University's Talent Identification Program. One of the "perks" was that I got the chance to take the ACT test. I didn't study for it and was sick as a dog the day of.

I scored a 17 — the highest is a 36 — that first time. No, I'm not a genius.

Fast-forward to junior year of high school, I took it two more times. I was sick during those testing days too. Scored in the 20s those times and stopped taking it, because I had the "magic" number required to attend college. I can't remember my exact score, nor has it mattered much in the real world.

The score I got in seventh grade has always stuck in my mind because it surprised me and I had absolutely no idea what I was doing. But, I got a "really cool" participation certificate from Duke University at the end of the year awards ceremony.

Speaking of those ceremonies, I received awards at a bunch of those. I was inducted into the National Honor Society, sometimes received an award in a particular subject, and was even one of the first recipients of the University of Mississippi's Luckyday Scholarship, which at the time, was based on my high school GPA (I don't remember what that was either), not the ACT test. No one in the real world has yet to care about the awards I received in high school.

What I also remember about the senior awards ceremony was that some people who had those higher ACT scores and GPAs got a tremendous amount of scholarship money to more than one school. Well, you can only go to one college at a time, so where does all that money go? Sure, it makes for a great photo opportunity and a nice "feel good" story, but, to me, it just feels wasteful.

While I did receive financial aid in the form of MTAG and my scholarship, I still had to take out student loans to go to college. Those are still a part of my life.

During the school years, educators prioritize the heck out of the ACT test. And they have to, of course, it is a nationally-recognized college entrance examination.

But, I often wonder if the ACT is a true reflection of the student's abilities.

Some people get really nervous taking tests.

Others, like myself, might be sick during the test day, which lasts all day, and spend the majority of time making sure their runny nose doesn't run all over the testing pages. There's a lot of pressure knowing that one test has the potential to determine one's whole future.

According to that article from Mississippi Today, the average ACT score in the state of Mississippi is 18. If the program in the state is rewritten, the minimum ACT score that a student will need to qualify for any financial aid will be raised from 15 to 18.

So, what happens if a student has a high GPA, but doesn't get that magical number on the ACT test? No college for them, then.

And the ACT test isn't free. According to test-masters.com, the ACT costs $46.00 (no writing) or $62.50 (with optional writing test) and a $29.50 fee for late registration.

Students can purchase books to study for the test and/or take an ACT study class.

So, what is the test really measuring? How much a student learns from the K-12 years or how much they learn from the ACT preparation courses?

And, I just gotta say, taking the ACT course in no way prepared me for college. I always say I should have gone to community college first instead of jumping head-first into Ole Miss.

I think that people who want to go to college should have the opportunity to go. But, there are so many barriers, it's like they don't want people to get an education.

So, it's given to the students who have access to the funds to continuously pay to take the ACT test, to purchase the study materials and/or study courses.

It's not cheap and that is a lot of money for the majority of people who live paycheck to paycheck and also want to see their children have a chance at a higher education.

It's been programmed into us that we have to do this and that. Go to college and doors will open. You will make such a great salary. Blah. Blah. Blah.

You know what they should tell you?

That most of the time, getting a job is based on who you know or who you are related to.

I went to college with a bunch of people who had a job at the family company waiting for them after graduation. All they had to was get that little piece of paper and, voila, instant employment.

But it's not that easy for everyone else, no matter what the Facebook "experts" say.

I applied for a job once. Had to fill out numerous forms and send in my college transcript (they didn't ask for my ACT score, though). After submitting all that information, come to find out, the company had already planned to fill the position in-house and only advertised the position as a formality. Some places you never hear back from after sending in your resume to the abyss.

I mean, I guess if there was more time spent teaching students about the real world, they wouldn't be able to sell people that "American Dream" so easily.

But, I do wish there was a better way for people to gain access to higher education if they choose to. People like Keenum don't sound too eager to make it more attainable either. I enjoyed college and I had the most colorful array of professors. I still remember time spent in their classrooms.

If someone has a burning desire to learn more, I don't think a test should keep them from doing so.

According to the 1890 Census, there were twelve Indian families in Dillville (Bayou LeCroux). The first white settlers established a cemetery in the center of the community that included the hallowed burial ground of the Indian dead, and it is preserved to this day. The original church was a small, simple wooden building, probably built around 1860. In 1879, Father LeDuc built a larger, more traditional church next to the cemetery called the Holy Cross Catholic Church on five acres of land donated by one of the first German settlers, Matthew Verderber, brother-in-law of John Zengerling. In 1881 Bishop Jannsens confirmed twenty-seven Indians in Dillville. Indian family names in Hancock County in this era include Favre, Bilbo, Yarber, Chafer, Taylor, and Yakumintwand. In 1901 Bayou LaCroux had 156 whites, 47 Indians, and 1 Negro.

In 1903 the United States took most of the remaining Choctaw in Dillville as wards of the state and granted them land in Oklahoma. Some went and came back; some stayed. Consequently, the population of Dillville was reduced to one hundred inhabitants. Indians had married into their white neighbors' families, and, as a result, many citizens in the county today have traceable amounts of Choctaw in their ancestry. Some of these Indians who moved to Oklahoma acquired significant wealth when oil was struck on their land. Bill Favre was one such Choctaw Indian with his wife and worked a farm on a tract of land given to him by the U.S. Government. Oil was discovered on his property in 1920, and the family became prosperous. Bill drove his new Buick automobile to Bayou LaCroux in 1928 to visit his brother, Dave Favre. However, Dave was never tempted to leave Hancock County for Oklahoma.

The village of Bayou LaCroux was called Dilleville until the 1930's. In a forthcoming article, the growth of this settlement into a small but busy port on a navigable waterway -- Bayou LaCroux will be described.

BRENT DAVID ANDERSON II “BABY BRENT”

Brent David Anderson II “Baby Brent” passed away peacefully Thursday, November 04, 2021 at Memorial Hospital in Gulfport, MS at the age of 22 after a sudden illness. Baby Brent was born on February 1, 1999 in Bay St. Louis, MS. Baby Brent found pleasure in experiencing what many of us would call ordinary life. He was a thrill seeker in that he loved airplane rides, getting on anything with wheels, feeling the wind on his face, celebrating Halloween, making people laugh and demanding his wants from anyone who would give him the attention. He loved to eat and found much pleasure in food. Television often seemed to calm him in ways that words could not. His tireless exploration of his environment demonstrated a voracious curiosity about the world around him. In his short life, Baby Brent faced many obstacles which he met with a rare combination of courage, grace and dignity; and, as such, he provided inspiration and perspective to all of us for dealing with life’s adversity. Although he could not communicate with words, he was a great teacher. Small in stature, he was, in his own way, a giant. He was much loved by many and will be forever missed. He was preceded in death by his grandfather, William Power and his paternal great-grandmother, Edna (Bobby) Puckett. Baby Brent is survived by his parents, Brent and Maureen Anderson; siblings, Ethan Bordelon and Jaxson and Bree Anderson; mother, Barbara Doyle; siblings, Dominick and Sarah; paternal grandmother, Janet Power; paternal grandfather, Andy Anderson and numerous aunts, uncles, cousins and countless others who taught, cared and advocated for, befriended and loved him throughout his short life. In lieu of flowers the family prefer donations to The Arc of Mississippi: 704 North President St., Jackson, MS 39202. Visitation will be held Friday November 12, 2021 at St. Clare Catholic Church in Waveland, MS from 10:00 a.m. until 11:00 a.m. with a Mass of Christian Burial at 11:00 a.m. A reception will follow and all are welcome to attend and celebrate Baby Brent’s life. Edmond Fahey Funeral Home is in charge of the arrangements.

nounced his resignation in July, citing health reasons, including cancer and congestive heart failure. Faulk’s certification was suspended in March, and he was accused of failing to comply with mandatory reporting to Child Protective Services; failure to report overdose deaths to the Bureau of Narcotics; failure to comply with adequate preservation of evidence; and failure to submit correct documentation. Pearl River County Coroner Derek Turnage had served as interim coroner in Faulk’s absence. Hair was sworn in on Thursday and will now serve the remainder of Faulk’s term. Hair said Tuesday he’s ready to hit the ground running, but “I will have to be certified by the state.”

Seeing Life As Adventure

By C. GERALD RICHARDSON, D. MIN.

C. Gerald Richardson, D. Min.

Joseph Campbell was a writer, teacher, philosopher, and something of a mystic who understood some very basic truths regarding the human experience. He was probably best known as the result of a series of interviews on public television. The interviewer was journalist Bill Moyers who had a strong background in theological and philosophical literature as well as a keen awareness of the varied nuances of the way people experience the world.

The interview was later used to compose a wonderful book entitled, The Power of Myth, which not only became a best seller, but also provided the material for numerous discussion groups in the mid to late 1980's. As a member of one such group, I recall several meaningful conversations which have remained part of my spiritual journey across the years. Campbell was not a particularly religious man in the traditional sense of that term. He was, however, a person with deep insight into the way the pursuit of spiritual truth has impacted humanity across many civilizations and cultures in our history. One of his profound thoughts, which was quoted in Newsweek Magazine around that time was as follows: "Too many people have lost sight of life as an adventure to be sought. Instead we see it as danger to be avoided. We simply cannot live well like that." Almost forty years later, that statement still conveys important truth, and it is relevant for modern life.

What are the adventures which guide and inform our lives?

*Anne Lamott, a spiritual writer who is well known in contemporary literature, declares that the journey of the spirit is enriched when we acknowledge our need for help, and engage the power of gratitude which offers a healthy perspective on life. She says that effective prayer has two parts. "Help me, help me, help me, and thank you, thank you, thank you." What a difference it could make in the personal adventure of our lives if we could embrace such an attitude.

*There is also healthy adventure in our honest efforts to address human need. Frederick Buechner, a popular spiritual writer once said that the term "calling" is best understood as the convergence of our own deep passion and the world's deep need. We live in a world with great abundance which resides alongside profound suffering. When people are able to identify the passion of their lives and address it in the context of human need, significant and meaningful adventure is likely to result which can make a redemp-tive difference in the world.

*There was a woman who lost her husband as a result of premature death. She suffered greatly due to her grief. She spent every day at the cemetery taking flowers and grieving over her loss. One day her doctor suggested that she take those flowers and visit hospitals and nursing homes. She decided to try it, and before long, she found her sorrow more bearable and a new life began to unfold before her.

There are many ways to embrace the adventure of life. Look for it. Act upon it. Accept the healing it can offer.

- 134 shared ideas and feelings on the postcards (54 of those were children).
- 175 people attended the six lectures.
- 1,622 Facebook members watched the live recordings of the lecture series.
- Total number of people reached: 3,286.

Visitors represented 35 different states as well as Canada, England, and Columbia, she said.

“We learned so much from this exhibit,” Cullen said. “We have so many plans to improve our permanent collections, offer more lectures and programs, create activities for the children in each of our museum rooms, and offer more temporary exhibits.”

Cullen said that one thing the board realized was that there are not enough interactive exhibits for the children in the museum’s rooms.

“One thing that the kids and the adult kids loved about the Smithsonian was that every panel had something interactive,” Cullen said. “So we are in the process of actually adding an interactive component for children in each of our three museum rooms.”

Cullen said that the mosaic room will also be converted into a temporary exhibit room to feature more traveling exhibits.

The board appointed Rachel Knight as its representative on the Hancock County Tourism Board.

The board approved a request from the Waveland Civic Association to hold a Christmas parade on Dec. 11.

The board approved a motion to hire certified water operator David Brown as a lift station specialist, which will allow for the servicing of the city’s lift stations in-house. The annual salary will be $42,000 pending passage of a drug test.

The next meeting is scheduled for Nov. 17 at 6:30 p.m.

Riviere also thanked the church’s families “for coming to the plate and really helping us with this building.”

Jones’ surviving family members — all from Meridian — attended the dedication ceremony on Sunday.

“I just want you all to know what you meant to Dad,” Jones’ son Louis told the congregation. “You all brought so much joy to Dad. You will never know how much. ... You have a very special place here, and he bragged about y’all all the time. What a special thing you did in creating this building, so keep it going.”

Before the congregation toured the new building, the children of the parish sang and performed, led by Clyde Holzbauer on guitar and harmonica.

Groundbreaking for the building occurred on July 7, 2020, and it was completed on April 29 of this year. It was designed by architect Mac Walcott and built by contractor Crane Builders LLC.

Church Building Committee members included George Riviere, Lane DeBardeleben, Merry Thomson, Sally Johnson, Ben Benvenuti, Susan Stevens and John “Corky” Hadden.

Meet Champ. Those ears and that big grin! This sweet boy is always happy and ready to play and have fun. He is just one of those dogs that loves everyone he meets, both human and canine. He has a convivial nature, so we are seeking a fun family for Champ; one that wants their dog to be part of their family and join in their adventures. He would be an awesome buddy for a single person, couple or active retirees, and a trusted family member and best friend to your kids. Champ loves to go for walks, but he does need additional leash training. (We've been training him with a harness, and he is showing marked improvement.) In true Labrador Retriever/Bloodhound form, he loves following an interesting scent. As he loves playing outdoors when not cuddling and giving kisses, a home with a fenced backyard is a must. At only 2 to 3 years old, Champ has many years of unconditional love to give his new family. If you would like to meet this fab boy, please call our front desk at 228-466-4516 to schedule a meet-n-greet, or stop by during visiting hours: Mon-Fri 10am-3pm (Tues 12pm-3pm). Please bring your family dog(s) and children along for the visit to ensure compatibility. You will fall in love with Champ!

Mystic Krewe of the Seahorse presented checks to several Hancock County community causes at this month's member meeting. The "Seahorse Open" Pirate Tee Party Putt Putt charity was a huge success and a fun event in the Bay on Second Saturday in September. The event raised $2,070.00 for Brenda's House. Lisa Wilburn accepted the check on behalf of Brenda's House. The Krewe also donated $1000.00 to the Michael Boutte Scholarship Fund. His wife, Jennifer, and Sheriff Ricky Adam were present to accept the check in honor of the fallen deputy, Lt. Michael Boutte. And the 50/50 raffle was split between Darrolyn Hunt and the Bay St. Louis Community Garden. Mystic Krewe of the Seahorse members want to thank the BBQ Depot for their community hospitality in sponsoring the meeting.

CONTRIBUTING WRITER

The Bay High Tigers needed two scores in the last three and a half minutes of play to get a 39-33 win against Quitman in Bay St. Louis on Friday. With the first round win the Tigers will play the top team in the state in 4A at Columbia High School on Friday.

The Tigers went up 31-27 with 3:23 left on the game clock, but Quitman responded quickly, scoring on a 75-yard kickoff return to go up 33-31.

With 3:16 on the game clock, and starting at their own 21 yard line, the Tigers put together a 13-play scoring drive, capped by an 11-yard Xander Ladner pass into the end zone to 6'4" receiver Terron Bedford, who leaped up to retrieve the ball where nobody but he could get it with 12 seconds left on the game clock. Noah Cutter carried for the 2-point conversion to close out the game's scoring.

"Xander made the throw when he needed to make the throw," said Bay High coach Jeremy Turcotte. "I've been telling Terron Bedford all year what a big time player he is, and that play right there, to put us up, is the biggest play of the year.

"I had some kids feeling sorry for themselves at the end of the half, and I will not let them do it," said Turcotte. "I will not let them feel sorry for themselves. I went out and challenged them. I told them that they were going to get punched in the face, and they punched us in the face right there at the end of the first half. But you just get up and keep swinging. I knew it was going to be a fight. It's playoff football. Playoff football is a fight, and you are going to take some shots, and you just got to keep swinging. And we did."

Bay High got a huge night from its senior running back duo of Noah Cutter and Carmelo Simpson. Simpson led the attack with 170 yards on 32 carries and four touchdowns. Cutter rushed for 122 yards on 24 carries and a touchdown.

"I can't say enough about Noah Cutter and Carmelo Simpson," said Turcotte. "We're probably the only school in the country that runs a hurry-up offense. That's what we do. I saw on film where I thought it might be effective on those guys."

Cutter broke upfield for 34 yards on the Tigers first play from scrimmage of the night. Simpson had productive carries of 10, 13, 6, 6 and 8 yards on the initial drive. Cutter capped the Tigers' opening possession with a 5-yard score.

Bay High trailed Quitman 12-6 at halftime, but the Tigers opened the second half clearly on a mission. Ben Wilemon returned the second half kickoff 11 yards to the midfield stripe.

Cutter got the Tigers going with carries of 6, 3 and 11 yards to the Quitman 30 yard line. A few plays later, Ladner connected with Cutter on fourth down for 6 yards and a first down. Simpson added runs of 6, 3 and 10 yards for the touchdown and a 12-12 tie. The 2-point conversion attempt failed.

The Tigers caught Quitman off guard on the ensuing kickoff as Jaylen Antoine fielded the onside kick at the Panthers 49 yard line.

Cutter had two runs of 13 yards each, the latter moving the ball to the Panthers' 8 yard line. Simpson scored his second touchdown of the night on the next play to give the Tigers an 18-12 lead with 4:51 remaining on the third quarter clock.

The Tigers lead didn't last as Quitman scored on a 57-yard run on their second snap to go up 19-18 after a successful than PAT kick with 4:12 left in the third quarter.

Antoine returned the ensuing kickoff 19 yards to the Tigers' 44 yard line, and the Tigers went the rest of the way in 6 snaps with Simpson carrying the final 27 yards for a touchdown and a 24-19 Bay High lead with 1:33 remaining on the third quarter clock.

Quitman regained the lead on their ensuing possession, going 62 yards in 4 plays to take a 27-24 lead after a successful 2-point conversion pass with 11:03 left on the game clock.

Bay High's ensuing possession ended with a fumble recovered by Quitman. But the Tigers' defense stepped up huge, forcing a fourth down with 24 yards needed for a first down.

And the biggest defensive play would follow as Tysen Hawkins sacked the punter to give Bay High excellent field position at the Quitman 27 yard line.

Simpson would carry five times for gains of 7, 3, 8, 5 and 1 yard and his fourth touchdown and a 31-27 lead with 3:23 left on the game clock after Avery Harris's successful PAT kick.

Morton stops SSC upset bid 42-31

BY JOSEPH W. GEX, II
STAFF WRITER

The Saint Stanislaus Rock-A-Chaws started their trek toward Morton around lunchtime on Friday, November 5, with the hope to make the return trip later that evening a joyous one. But, it was not to be.

The Morton Panthers jumped out quickly on the Rocks, who were playing in the postseason for the ninth consecutive year, for a 42-31 victory. However, it was not without excitement.

Morton (6-5) struck first on the first play from scrimmage with a 71-yard double-pass from Robert Jennings to Quavious Wilson with 11:34 left in the first quarter. The two-point conversion attempt was intercepted by Davien Lagarde leaving the score 6-0.

The Rocks (4-6) got a 39-yard gain from Lagarde on their first play from scrimmage only to lose the ball a play later on a fumble.

The Panthers drove to the Rock three yard line before a penalty forced them to settle for a 24-yard field goal attempt. Jacob Bradford broke through the line and blocked the kick that was picked up by Lagarde who raced 87 yards for the touchdown with 6:00 left in the first quarter. Evan Noel converted the PAT to make the score 7-6.

A strong defensive stand by SSC forced a punt and SSC took over at their own 33 yard line.

Alex Fabra hit Ja'Kobe Cameron for a 30-yard gain followed by a 14-yard gain from the same duo. Next, Fabra hit Canye Bankston for nine yards before Lagarde broke free for a 19-yard scoring run with 53 seconds left in the quarter. Noel hit the PAT to put SSC up 14-6.

Morton wasted little time answering as Madden Gerald hit Xavier McDonald for a 65-ard scoring toss with 10:31 left in the half. Gerald found Jennings for the two-point conversion to knot the score at 14-14.

The Rocks mixed it up on the ensuing drive witha toss to Bankston, a five-yard gain by Fabra and a 14-yard pickup by Lagarde effort SSC was intercepted by Devin Anderson at the Panther five yard line.

The Panthers drove to midfield before being forced to punt. However, the Rocks gave it right back to Morton when they put the ball on the carpet for the second time.

The Panthers answered with a four-yard scoring run by Jennings with 2:54 left in in half. The PAT by George Ibarra was good pushing the score to 21-14.

The Panthers forced the Rocks to punt and Morton quickly found the endzone again. Gerald found Denim Youngblood for a 47-yard scoring aerial with 1:22 left in the half. The PAT by Ibarra made the score at intermission 28-14.

SSC came out in the second half and gathered points. Fabra found Bankston for passes of 36 and 10 yards down to the Panthers' 20 yard line. Noel nailed a 37-yard field goal with 8:24 left in the third quarter to make the score 28-17.

Morton put together a methodical 12-play drive that ended with a one-yard run by Temarion Burton with 4:20 remaining in the third quarter. Ibarra made good on the PAT to push the score to 35-17.

After a strong defensive stand by Morton forcing the Rocks to punt, Morton found the endzone again. Taking over near midfield after a 17-yard return on the punt, Morton had a six-play drive that culminated with a 14-yard run by Jennings with 27 seconds left in the third quarter. The PAT by Ibarra made the score 42-17.

With their backs against the wall, SSC responded with a 29-yard pass from Fabra to Cameron followed by a 26-yard scoring aerial from Fabra to Cameron with 11:22 left in the game. The two-point conversion failed leaving the score 42-23.

An onsidess kick failed but a strong defensive stand from Tyler, Spencer Cornell, and others gave SSC the ball back on downs at their 35 yard line.

Three plays later, Fabra launched a 54-yard scoring aerial to Cameron with 7:04 left to play. The two-point conversion failed leaving the score 42-31.

Hancock in a see-saw match in Pascagoula

BY MAURICE SINGLETON
CONTRIBUTING WRITER

Hancock took the lead three different times in the second half of their game at Pascagoula on Thursday, but the Hawks were unable to overcome the Panthers’ late fourth quarter momentum, as Pascagoula prevailed 54-46.

Hancock took the lead at 46-40 on a 24-yard pass completion from Brandon King to Hayden Bello and a 2-point conversion carry by Pierre Fowler with just under eight minutes remaining in the game. But the Panthers would score on both of their ensuing possessions, and their defense held the Hawks to negative yardage on their possession.

“I thought our kids played with fire and energy,” said Hawks’ coach Neil Lollar. “They showed the true character as to who they are, and I think that’s the biggest testament of what this team’s about.

“We don’t have a large number of seniors, but the ones who are there did a great job these last three weeks,” Lollar added. “They could have gone a different way, and they did a great job, showing up each day and showing that we have to work. I pray and hope that these younger guys noticed that and saw that and know that now I’ve got something to build on.”

themselves down early, 14-0, after Pascagoula went 75 yards on four plays for their first score, then 62 yards on seven plays and a touchdown on their second possession after Hancock failed to pick up a first down on their first possession.

Coby Kern got the Hawks going on Pascagoula’s third possession as he intercepted the Panthers and returned it 27 yards to the Panthers’ 13 yard line.

With the short field, the Hawks’ offense immediately went to work as Cameron Miller took a pitch on a reverse play and zipped it to Brandon King on his way untouched into the end zone. The Hawks trailed 14-7 with 3:43 left o the first quarter clock.

Hancock recovered a Pascagoula fumble on the Panthers’ next possession, and once again the Hawks found themselves in excellent field position at the Panthers’ 10 yard line. Fowler picked up a first down on two carries of four and 6 yards, respectively, but that was as far they would advance the ball. King would kick a 27-yard field goal to move the Hawks to within four points of the home team at 14-10 with five seconds on the first quarter clock.

The Panthers would take a 20-10 lead on their ensuing possession, going 88 yards on 10 plays.

But the Hawks maintained their offensive momentum on their next possession, mixing the running attack with four pass completions to go 80 yards on ten plays for another score as King would connect with Jeffrey Hopgood on an 8-yard pass to make it 20-17 in favor of Pascagoula with 4:08 remaining on the second quarter clock.

The Panthers extended their lead to 26-17 on their next possession, capping the 80-yard drive with a 10-yard quarterback keeper with 1:38 left on the second quarter clock.

Fowler sparked the Hawks with a 67-yard kickoff return to the Panthers 20 yard line, and a personal foul call against Pascagoula moved the ball to their 10 yard line. King connected with Todd Dedeaux on the first snap for the touchdown and kicked the PAT kick to close out the first half scoring at 26-24.

Dedeaux returned the second half kickoff seven yards to the Hawks 37 yard line, and the Hawks made quick work of the good field position, going 63 yards on five snaps as King connected with Cameron Miller for a 31-yard scoring toss, and the Hawks first lead of the night at 31-26 at the 9:41 mark of the third quarter.

Pascagoula retook the lead on their ensuing possession, going 70 yards on six snaps, capping the drive with a 14-yard quarterback keeper for a 33-31 lead.

For their second consecutive possession, the Hawks began at their own 37 yard line, and again they would cap the drive with a touchdown, this time on a 41-yard Fowler run. The Hawks led 38-33 with 4:49 remaining on the third quarter clock.

Pascagoula regained the lead on a 6-play drive, going 72 yards, capping the drive with a 24-yard carry for the score for a 40-38 lead over the Hawks with 2:32 remaining on the third quarter clock.

Pascagoula would score twice in the last six minutes of the game to secure the win. The Hawks finished their season at 3-8 (0-7, district).

King completed 13 of 19 passes for 148 yards and four touchdowns for the Hawks. He also scored on a 13-yard reception on a reverse-pitch-pass from Miller for a touchdown. In the kicking game, King was successful on a 27-yard field goal and four PAT kicks.

Winter sports of basketball and soccer take to the fields of play

BY JOSEPH W. GEX, II
STAFF WRITER

With the fall sports of swimming, cross country, and volleyball behind us and the waning days of football coming to a close, the sports of basketball and soccer begin to take shape on the hardwood and frigid fields across the state.

BASKETBALL

The Bay High Tigers have hit the hardwood but await the arrival of their football players. In the meantime, the Tigers opened their season with a 42-35 win over Long Beach on October 30. The Lady Tigers countered with a 41-34 loss to Long Beach and a 42-27 victory over St. Patrick on November 2.

Hancock has opened with a 4-0 record with wins over Saint Stanislaus 60-46, Ocean Springs 55-24, Pass Christian 40-29, and Gautier 45-37.

Hancock head coach Collin Goley stated, “In our opener, I give SSC credit. They gave us everything we wanted. We had some mental lapses and they took advantage of it. We were able to get some things going and string some points and possessions together. But, we need to learn how to play 32 full minutes together.”

SSC Daniel Grieves on his career opener, “Today is the first time we have played together since I have been here. We have 8 guys with any varsity experience. We committed 17 turnovers in the first half but came back to commit just 5 in the second half. We took a step forward today. Championships are not won in October. We have all of our goals in front of us.”

Jackson Corey led Hancock with 17 points followed by Blaine Knight with 16 and Mason Holladay with 14. Omar Tayara led SSC with 20 followed by Paxton DeBardleben and Byron Krohn with 10 each.

SSC also fell to Vancleave 52-38 on November 2.

The Lady Hawks beat Laurel 57-42 on October 30 and Ocean Springs 45-27 on November 2.

Our Lady Academy

fell to Purvis 77-10 on October 28 and Vancleave 37-22 on November 5.

SOCCER

On the frigid fields, Bay High beat Vancleave 4-1 and lost to Ocean Springs 3-0 on October 30. The Tigers beat Picayune 1-0 on November 2 and lost to Saint Stanislaus 2-0 on November 4.

Hancock beat Purvis 4-0 on October 28 and lost to Saint Stanislaus 2-0 on November 6.

Saint Stanislaus lost to George County 2-1 and tied Ocean Springs 1-1 on October 30.

In girls soccer, Bay High lost to d’Iberville 1-0 and beat Pascagoula 7-1 on October 30 before beating Picayune 2-0 on November 2 and losing to OLA 3-2 on November 4.

Hancock tied Long Beach 0-0 on October 28 and tied Bay High 2-2 on November 6.

OLA beat Sumrall 2-1 on October 28, lost to Gulfport 3-1 on October 30, and lost to Ocean Springs 3-0 on November 2.

scores while Cameron caught 10 passes for 192 and both touchdowns. Lagarde added 13 carries for 85 yards and a touchdown.. Ryan Tyler led the defense with 20 tackles including six solo stops, a tackle for loss, and a pass break followed by Joe Bradford with 10 stops.

gave the Panthers excellent field position. However, the Rock defense came through as Lagarde made his second interception on the game at the Rock 30 yard line.

The Rocks put together a 10-play drive only to cone up short and turned the ball over on downs at the Morton 35 yard-line. The Panthers ran out the clock to preserve the win and move on to the second round of the Class 3A state playoffs against top-ranked Raleigh.

SSC head coach Nate Encrapera stat, “I am very proud of how we played tonight never giving up. That is a testament to the leadership of our senior class. We will review this film and what we did this year and regroup and start getting ready for next year.”

The Rocks were led by Fabra who threw for 270 yards and two

A day to honor all veterans

The month of November is a special time for the nation's veterans. While Memorial Day honors fallen soldiers and service people, Veteran's Day, which takes place each November, is an opportunity to commemorate the efforts of all who have been in the armed forces, with a special emphasis on living veterans. While people are encouraged to thank veterans throughout the year, Veteran's Day is a particularly poignant time to show your appreciation for the men and women of the military.

Veteran's Day takes place on November 11 and marks an important moment in history. On November 11, 1918, World War I, known at the time as "The Great War," unofficially ended when an armistice, or temporary cessation of hostilities, took place between Germany and the Allied nations on the eleventh hour of the eleventh day of the eleventh month. World War I ended on paper when the Treaty of Versailles was signed on June 28, 1919. In November 1919, President Woodrow Wilson proclaimed November 11 as the first commemoration of Armistice Day, according to the U.S. Department of Veterans Affairs.

Armistice Day became a federal holiday in the United States in 1938. However, after subsequent wars, including World War II and the Korean War, veterans' service organizations lobbied for Armistice Day to be revised so it would be more inclusive of all veterans. On June 1, 1954, President Dwight D. Eisenhower signed legislation to strike the word "Armistice" from the holiday's name in favor of "Veterans." Since then, November 11 has been known as "Veterans Day" and has honored veterans of all wars.

Veterans Day was moved to the fourth Monday in October for roughly seven years under the Uniform Monday Holiday Act, which sought to ensure three-day weekends for federal employees by celebrating certain national holidays on Mondays. But since November 11 bore such significance, many states disapproved and continued to observe the holiday on November 11. In 1975, President Gerald Ford signed legislation to return the observation of Veterans Day to November 11 beginning in 1978. Should the day fall on a Saturday or Sunday, the federal government observes the holiday on the previous Friday or following Monday, respectively, according to History.com.

The United States isn't the only country to celebrate its veterans. Canada, Great Britain, Australia, and France also commemorate the veterans of World War I and II on or near November 11 as Remembrance Day or Remembrance Sunday.

Veterans Day Parade

The city of Waveland will host a Veterans Parade on Saturday, November 13, 2021, at 11 a.m. on Coleman Avenue, Waveland.

We are inviting veterans of the Bay/Waveland and Hancock County area to participate by riding in the parade.

We are also inviting any groups who would like to participate by marching in the parade, or individuals or businesses who would be interested in sponsoring the event. And, most of all, we want members of our community to join together in honoring these veterans by attending the parade.

For many years, brave men and women have served our country, making many sacrifices to protect our freedoms, and we want to honor and celebrate these men and women for their service and sacrifices.

The reason the parade is on a Sunday is that we want all youth members of our community to have an opportunity to not only participate or attend the parade but to learn civic pride. Our hope is that they will be the members of the community who will carry on this tradition.

We look forward to honoring the brave men and women of our community.
